

RIPLEY.

THURSDAY DECEMBER 21, 1837.

The Whigs of New York, to their praise be it spoken, have agreed to give $40,000 to the benefit of the poor, instead of an illumination, in gratitude of their redemption from Van Burenism.

We understand Senator Grady of Tennessee, had been sent to New York to electioneer for his master—and addressed the populace from a window on the first day of the election.

We shall issue no paper next week, for our Devil says, it has been the practice of his predecessors from time immemorial, to address his betters, after having wandered to and fro on the earth for a time, or even half a time. And as we know he has been quite a busy Devil, for the last four or five months we feel disposed to give the "Devil his due."

The Vicksburg Register in classing the Senators to our State Legislature set down the Senator from Tiptah and Tishomingo, as anti-Bank. This we are informed is a mistake, for our Senator as well as the Members to the lower house are pledged to support a state bank. Although one of our members is a Loco-Foco-Hard money-Van Buren-spoils-man. The other Mr. J. P. Portier is a true Whig. Mr. Matthews and Mr. Portier, may be set down, as carrying to the seat of government, at heart, the general wishes and feelings of their constituents.

We have received from Jackson, through the Southern Whig, the official returns from all the counties in the state, except Adams, De Soto, Marshall and Panola; and from the returns seen from these counties, we have no doubt they are correct.

From the Southern Whig

We give below a list of the members elected to the Legislature as far as heard from. It is impossible to class them according to politics with any degree of certainty as the election in many counties turned upon local questions.—Some of the statements we have seen give the Whigs majority—others a Van Buren majority—There is undoubtedly a majority in favor of a National Bank. Those in italics are new members.

The voice of the people!—Meeting of the citizens of Clinton and the vicinity. Agreeable to public notice a large number of the citizens of Clinton and the vicinity, assembled at the Spring Hotel in Clinton, on Thursday the 2nd instant.

James Dupree, Esq., was called to the chair, and Col. Wm. Anderson appointed secretary of the meeting:—when the following resolutions, presented by Maj. Thomas J. Harney, and advocated in an able manner by him and Robert H. Buckner, Esq.,—were adopted.

Resolved, That the statement made by Messrs. Claiborne and Gholson, in their address to the people of Mississippi that they every where expressed the opinion before the July election, that the members to be chosen at that election would serve for whole twenty-fifth congress, is utterly untrue. [Passed without a dissenting vote.]

Resolved, That the statement of Mr. Gholson, in his speech as reported in the Washington Globe of the 3rd of October, that there was not the slightest doubt among the people of Mississippi but that whoever were elected, were elected for the the 25th congress, is equally untrue. [Passed unanimously.]

Resolved, As the opinion of this meeting, that more than nineteen twentieths of these who voted at the July election, voted under the impression that the members to be elected would serve only until the regular election in November. [Passed with one dissenting vote.]

Resolved, That the intention of Messrs. Claiborne and Gholson to hold their seats during the 25th congress, as declared in their communication to the people of Mississippi, deserves the indignation and execration of every freeman of said state. [Passed unanimously.]

Resolved, That the proceedings of this meeting be published in the Clinton Gazette, and all other papers friendly to the continuance of the elective franchise in its pristine purity.

On motion, Resolved, That this meeting do now adjourn.

JAMES DUPREE, chairman
WM. ANDERSON, secretary.

Oscola is at last taken. The momentous question now arises, "what is to be done with him?" It was occurred to us that the proper course would be to send him to St Helena and surround the island with six ships of the line and twelve frigates. Our government can never rest quietly on its pillow as long as this second Napoleon remains upon the continent. Who will be the "Sir Hudson Lowe" to guard the illustrious exile? You. Gen. Jessup?—Louisville Courier.

The Wetumpka (Val.) Herald, says, "last Tuesday, a meeting was appointed to be holden in the North Church. It was an Abolition meeting, and such a meeting as it was, the town of Meriden never beheld before. The excitement was so great that almost every one in town assembled in the market. The lecturer was a Mr. Geo. Ludlow from New Haven. The day previous to his coming, the town authority appointed a meeting, disapproving of his coming here, and appointed a Committee for the purpose of waiting on the reverend gentleman, politely requesting him to stay away; but he disregarded their advice, and persisted in coming. The way he was remunerated for his services was right. About the time the meeting commenced, there was a plentiful supply of rotten eggs, and the Abolitionists were saluted with a shower as they successively arrived.

They then, in their zeal, proceeded to lecture, amidst the noise and tumult without.—Before the lecture was half through, all the window blinds were closed, and, sure enough darkness prevailed. It was like the terrible appearance of the Heavens before some fearful and mighty storm when it hovers over all around us, big with gloom and horror. Things remained in this state for a few minutes, when all was aroused by a claudring sound, which seemed to shake the house to its very foundation, and, as if by magic, the door was rent asunder, literally shattered to pieces. But this was nothing to what followed. As soon as the door was down, the assault commenced—eggs flew so thick as almost to darken the horizon; men and women rushed in a confused mass to escape the nauseating fume that arose. By this time the lecturer had fled, but was soon discovered, and no shelter could he find. In his attempt to escape, he made a rush to get into Mrs. Meriam's, hoping to find protection among the females, but was doomed to disappointment—a young woman standing in the door at the time, refused—told him it was no place for an Abolitionist. From thence he continued his course on, under the protection of the Sheriff, amidst a continued shower of rotten eggs. The hurry and confusion that ensued, it is almost impossible to describe. Suffice it to say, that it is thought they will not be so anxious to hold another meeting here soon."

Where are the Federalists?

All parties now claim to be 'par excellence,' Republican—so that it would be as difficult to find a Federalist, even with a lantern in one's hand, as the ancient cynic said it was to find an honest man. Major Garland, in his speech against the subversive scheme, speaks, for example, of Roger B. Tany, as the democratic Chief Justice of the Supreme Court—although it is well known that a more decided Federalist than Roger B. Tany never existed, except perhaps it be James Buchanan, of Pennsylvania, now also one of the Democratic Leaders, who in the good old days of Jeffersonian Republicanism, declared that "if he thought he had a drop of democratic blood in his veins, he would open them and drain it out." The Albany Journal tells us of some like examples of political regeneration in that state. Edward P. Livingston now the democratic candidate for the State Senate in that district, and is duly labelled as such in that orthodox Journal, the Albany Argus; some years ago, the same Edward P. Livingston was a candidate in the same district for the same date, against the present President of the U. States, and then Mr. Livingston was styled by the Albany Argus the Federal candidate! Mr. M. Clean, in another district now the democratic candidate, was a few years ago, the federal candidate—and three of the candidates in Columbus county who during the war were federalists are now democrats. Where, we ask, are the federalists all gone? Each answers they are "died in the wool."

All Hail!—the Two Pollies is about on board the Two Pollies.

Rockaway, L. I. Nov 11, 1837.

GENTLEMEN:—I thank you for sending me the papers regularly, but I have had time to write to you for some time.

I believe my last letter told you about the condition of Uncle Sam and his buttons, but I am not satisfied.

I have now the satisfaction to tell you,—and you may tell it to all creation,—that the "Two Pollies" is
